Question 1: Draw a representation of a programmer's view of memory. Label each section of the diagram with a purpose. Note which sections should be protected in some way.
Question 2: How is a process represented in the OS? What data do we need to keep track of about a process?